FRANK MUHLEMAN VISITS HOME OF HENRY CLAY IN BLUE GRASS COUNTRY

As indicated in the report of the organization meeting of the Glendale City Trustees, Frank Muhleman, retiring chairman, reached the city in time to preside at the last session of the old Board.

Speaking of his Eastern trip, Mr. Muhleman said: While it kept him away from home longer than he had planned or desired, he got a great deal of pleasure out of it. The business which took him to Minnesota gave him a chance not only to realize the magnitude of the twins—Minneapolis and St. Paul—from a business standpoint, but also to see some fine bits of Minnesota from an entirely different view. One of these was Cass Lake, a summer resort for Minneapolis, St. Paul and Duluth people. The lake has a fine setting of pine and oak trees. On an Indian reservation near are a lot of Indians who make fine guides, and all the conditions have invited wealthy people of the cities named to make beautiful summer homes there.

Minneapolis made a deep impression upon the traveler who, under the tutelage of a fellow attorney whose guest he was, learned a good many interesting things about the (Continued on Page 3)

DIRECT HIGHWAY INTO L. A. SOON

At last work has begun on paving the highway from Ivanhoe bridge up over the hill, past Silver Lake and to Ivanhoe avenue in Edendale. This avenue runs into Alessandro street, which becomes Glendale avenue two blocks north of Sunset boulevard and Lake Shore avenue from Sunset south until it runs into West Second. When the Second St. tunnel is put through Glendale will have direct connection with the heart of the Los Angeles district by this route, which is said to be a mile and a half shorter than any other. It was expected that there would be a paved highway the entire length of this route three years ago but construction was held up by the war.

DEATH OF MRS. E. L. OSBORNE

Mrs. E. L. Osborne, who has been in a critical state of health for some time, passed away at her home, 127 North Columbus avenue, this morning at 4:30 o'clock. Her husband, her three daughters and her son were with her when she breathed her last. She and her husband came to Glendale from Montrose, Colo., about a year ago hoping the change of climate would benefit her health which was frail at that time. At this writing funeral arrangements have not been perfected.

SERVICE STAR WOMEN

WOMEN'S AUXILIARY OF GLENDAL POST AMERICAN LEGION ORGANIZED

Many women, who as either mother, wife, sister or daughter of men and women in service during the war, met last evening in American Legion Hall, Brand boulevard, and organized the Glendale Auxiliary with Mrs. Helen McBryde, president; Mrs. W. B. Kelly, vice-president; Miss Anna Bode, secretary; Mrs. C. L. Bullard, treasurer. Also present and signed as charter members were the Misses Midcalf, Bullard, Black, Murphy and Bode, Mesdames Wyman, Rowley, Kelly, Patch, Dunn, Taylor, Plume, Bode, McBryde and Bullard.

It was not possible to reach the families of all of Post 127 women folks, but it is to be hoped that at the meeting called specially for next Tuesday evening at the Legion rooms, at 8 p. m., there will be at least one member of the family of each man of the Glendale Post.

Application for charter membership (which closes May 30th), may be had by addressing or phoning any of above officers.

The object of the Auxiliary is to co-operate with the Legion in its work to perpetuate 100 per cent Americanism and to assist in any and all ways, returned service men, women, and their families.

Many committees must necessarily be elected to perfect the workings of the organization and every woman eligible to membership is being urged to attend this special meeting next Monday.

RIGDON SELL HOME

RETIRED CAPITALIST FROM JOLIET, ILLINOIS, IS THE PURCHASER

When Nathan Rigdon and wife moved into the beautiful new house built especially for their own occupancy, at the corner of Central avenue and Doran, a few weeks ago, they determined that nothing could induce them to part with it, as every convenience, including electric lighting and heating, had been put in. But when Hal Rice, of the H. L. Miller Co., told Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Gibson to see the place, Monday, they fell in love with it at once and determined to buy it. Mr. and Mrs. Rigdon demurred at first, but the deal was finally made, for $15,000 cash, and now Mr. Rigdon will have to get busy at once and build a new home, as the Gibsons want to occupy the place in June.

Mr. Gibson is a retired capitalist from Joliet, Ill., and has a charming family, some of the children being of High School age. They have been stopping in Hollywood, but Glendale's charms prevailed over those of Los Angeles' fashionable section and they bought here. Immediately on completing the deal Mr. and Mrs. Gibson began planning improvements to the grounds in the way of beautiful landscape gardening features.

MRS. COX RETURNS

Mrs. Mary Wix Cox, formerly a resident of Glendale but who has been living at Long Beach for about three years, and has spent several months with friends in Missouri, is the guest for a few days of Mrs. J. H. Orth of 153 South Central avenue. She would like to locate in Glendale again and is looking for that rare thing, a house to rent that will make a suitable residence for herself and her mother.

DR. BUCHER RETURNING

MRS. BUCHER GOES TO 'FRISCO TO MEET SHIP FROM SIBERIA

Mrs. E. S. Bucher of 610 West Broadway and her mother, Mrs. Skelton, left Monday evening for San Francisco to meet Dr. Bucher who is returning after a year's absence in Siberia in Red Cross work. The doctor sent a wireless to his wife that he hoped the boat would reach the Golden Gate today. Mrs. Bucher was accompanied by her children and did not know when she would return as her plans would depend on those of her husband.

Last Friday Mrs. Bucher entertained about fifteen ladies at afternoon tea in honor of Mrs. Crampton and Mrs. Wood of Pittsburg, Pa. The two ladies have been guests of Mrs. James H. Cunningham, of 1026 Florence Place, sister-in-law of Mrs. Bucher, and they left for their home in Pennsylvania Monday morning. Besides the Glendale ladies present, Mrs. Shepp and Mrs. Strathern of Pasadena were guests.

WEATHER FORECAST—Fair tonight and Thursday.

DEATH TOLL 150

MESSAGES CARRIED BY RAILROAD WIRES REVEAL THE AWFUL EFFECTS OF SOUTHERN TORNADO

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

MEMPHIS, April 21.—The full effects of the tornado which swept portions of Alabama, Mississippi and Tennessee were brought home today as reports reached here from the storm-swept districts. The death toll reached nearly 150 late today, according to reports received by railroad telegraph wires, the only means of communication. Latest reports placed the dead at Aberdeen at 27 and 25 at Dunn, Miss. Reports from eastern Mississippi and northern Alabama told of great suffering. Medical supplies and workers were being rushed from near-by cities. At Hamilton, Ala., where the court house had been turned into a hospital, the storm was reported as especially violent. Five members of one family were killed. A heavy timber was driven entirely through the body of a young woman. A baby was carried half a mile by the wind and killed. The family of six of Patrick Sharp of Philadelphia, Miss., was wiped out. The Baptist church at Philadelphia was being used as a morgue.

JOHNSON CARRIES NEBRASKA

BRYAN MADE DELEGATE AT LARGE; M'KELVEY LEADS FOR REPUBLICAN GUBERNATORIAL NOMINATION

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

LINCOLN, Neb., April 21.—Figures on yesterday's primary compiled up to noon today indicate that Senator Johnson of California has carried Nebraska by 20,000 votes. Bryan has probably been chosen democratic delegate at large. The republican presidential vote in 287 precincts outside of Douglas county shows: Johnson, 10,321; Wood, 7293; Pershing, 3592.

McKelvey's lead over Mullen for the republican nomination for governor will be approximately 10,000 in the face of incomplete returns. Moorhead made a sweeping victory for the democratic nomination for governor.

WITH THREE THOUSAND MEN IS NOW MENACING TAMPICO IN HEART OF OIL REGION

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

WASHINGTON, April 21.—Mexican rebels are threatening Tampico in the heart of the oil region, according to a communique issued here today by General Alvarado, representing the revolutionists. He said that General Gomez, with 3000 men, had joined the rebels, seized Tuxtam, the second largest Mexican oil city, and is now menacing Tampico. There are extensive areas of oil lands in those districts owned by American and European interests.

AUSTRIAN ANNEXATION TO GERMANY

QUESTION SOON TO BE DISCUSSED BY COUNCIL OF PREMIERS AT SAN REMO

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

SAN REMO, Italy, April 21.—The question of Austrian annexation to Germany has not been discussed by the Council of Premiers but probably will be taken up soon, the Italian foreign minister said today. Austria, it was known, was anxious to press the proposed annexation. The minister denied the report from Vienna that an alliance between Germany, Italy and Austria was contemplated.

BREACH BETWEEN ENGLAND AND FRANCE

MAY BE WIDENED BY PRESENT COUNCIL OF PREMIERS BECAUSE OF DIVERGENT VIEWS

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

PARIS, April 21.—Foreign dispatches from correspondents at San Remo indicate that the breach between Great Britain and France brought about by divergent views over the enforcement of the treaty of Versailles, may be widened during the present conference of the Council of Premiers. Some of the correspondents understand that Lloyd George and Premier Nitti propose to demand that Germany fulfill the financial conditions of the treaty immediately. This demand would be accomplished by certain concessions including the reduction of the allied occupied zone although the reduced area would be held longer than originally fixed. The French premier, according to these dispatches, opposes any concessions and will hold out for the strict enforcement of the treaty as written.

PRESIDENT INSTRUCTS AMBASSADOR

REQUESTS ROBT. UNDERWOOD JOHNSON TO ATTEND SAN REMO CONFERENCE AS "OBSERVER"

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

WASHINGTON, April 21.—President Wilson has instructed Ambassador Robert Underwood Johnson at Rome to attend the San Remo meeting of the Supreme Council as an unofficial observer, it was learned today at the State Department.

CITIZENS IMPATIENT

INSIST ON CENTRAL AVENUE BEING SPEEDILY OPENED TO TRAFFIC

Glendale citizens living in the north end and those having business up that way are getting very impatient over the dilatory tactics of the county authorities in regard to the Brand and Central avenue crossings of the Wash. Of course, it is expected that the contractor who built the concrete bridges on Brand will insist on no traffic over them until they are thoroughly hardened, but if the Central avenue bridge was put in shape there would be no reason for complaint. The city wants a new bridge put in there but asked that temporary repairs be made to the old one so it could be put to use as long as Brand is closed to traffic, but this was not done. The old bridge was made impassable many weeks ago and not a stroke of work has been done on it since.

Supervisor Dodge is being waited upon today by citizens of North Glendale and by members of the Greater Glendale Development Association asking him to see to giving immediate service over either or both of these bridges.

The closing of the Central avenue bridge and then making no effort to repair it or replace it is exceedingly bad business on the part of somebody, and when Supervisor Dodge has his attention called to existing conditions he will undoubtedly speed up matters.

ALL UNLICENSED DOGS TO BE IMPOUNDED

Ed Martner moved yesterday from 1329 East California avenue to the place he purchased on East Broadway. He is again an employee of the City of Glendale and is acting as dog catcher now. Later, he will be connected with the police force and help out during the officers' vacations. Chief Lampert says that so far licenses have been taken out for but little more than half the dogs in the city. All found without tags will be taken up, impounded for three days, and then killed if the owners do not pay the license tax and pound fees.

FORMER RESIDENTS ARE ENTERTAINED

Dr. and Mrs. P. O. Lucas had the pleasure of entertaining as luncheon guests Monday at their home on Riverdale Drive, Mr. and Mrs. Dale Woods, who formerly lived on Palmer avenue, and Mrs. Woods' sister, Miss Buxton. Mr. Woods will be remembered as the evangelist who conducted revival services on Los Feliz Road in association with Evangelist Clark about three years ago. Mr. and Mrs. Woods went from here to Colorado where they spent a year or more and are now living in Monrovia. Miss Buxton, who is from Colorado Springs, is taking a nurse's training course at the Los Angeles Hospital.

GREAT IMPROVEMENTS

NEW BUSINESS BUILDINGS RISING IN HEART OF THE CITY

Improvements in the heart of Glendale's business district are progressing rapidly. The concrete foundation for the "Glendale Theater" building, which will represent, when completed, an investment of fully $100,000, are being put in now and excavation for the basement is being pushed. The center brick wall for Ray Borthick's block is rising fast and the foundations for the front and side walls are about completed. The one-story brick coupe store-room at the corner of Ivy and Central avenue is nearing completion. The walls are up and the inside work has begun. The Evening News building at 139 South Brand is about finished outside and work on the interior is being pushed. The Richbart garage addition filling up the space between the Exide garage and the Dodge agency, is all enclosed and the roof about finished. These five improvements, all within a long stone's throw of one another, represent a combined investment, for building and grounds, of considerably more than $160,000.

GLENDAL 4; MONROVIA 1

Glendale High's baseball club kept up its good record yesterday afternoon by defeating Monrovia 4 to 1. Fred Jenkins pitched a fine game and every member of the team played a steady game. The boys have rounded into fine shape and great things are expected of them during the remainder of the season.

H. C. L. AT HIGH SCHOOL

POTATOES TABOO AT CAFETERIA AND PUPILS INSTRUCTED IN ECONOMY

The problem of high living costs finds its way into the Domestic Science Department of the High School as well as into the homes of pupils. Miss Ellen Hanson, who has charge of the cafeteria, says that no potatoes have been served there for a month neither have they found a place in the menus of the class lessons. Rice, she says, is the best substitute they have found for potatoes in the cafeteria. Sometimes it is served in its simplest form as a plain boiled vegetable, sometimes in the dish known as "Spanish Rice," sometimes with cheese, and again in the form of croquettes. Spaghetti and macaroni are also used to furnish a balancing starch element in the ration.

In meats the cheaper cuts have been resorted to as a measure of economy.

"Do they not require longer cooking?" Miss Hanson was asked. "Yes," she admitted, "but the careful housewife who watches the blaze under her oven or kettle will find after the peak of heat has been reached it can be turned low and the consumption of gas so reduced that the longer cooking will not by any means make the cost equal the price of the more popular cuts. To effect this saving the little "simmer" burner to be found on most gas stoves is a great help, and a (Continued on Page 3)

MISS VIRDEN MENDING

THOUGH BADLY HURT, IS NOW CONSIDERED OUT OF DANGER

Miss Ione Virden, of South Glendale, who was badly injured in an auto accident on Mt. Wilson Sunday afternoon, is mending rapidly in Roosevelt Hospital, Pasadena. Her mother returned from there last evening and speaks very hopefully of Miss Ione's condition. She said her daughter was tired out from continuous work and took the little outing Sunday afternoon with the full approval of her parents, both as a relaxation and because she wanted to see and handle snow for the first time in her life. Another couple had intended going with her and Walter Fishel, but were detained, so they went alone, intending to be back by 6 o'clock. They were within two miles of the summit of Mt. Wilson when the engine of their machine went dead. The auto ran backward and off the grade, rolling 200 feet down the mountain side. Miss Virden was thrown out first and fell some distance, rolling over rocks and stumps. Three ribs were broken and her body bruised and cut in many places. There were a few cuts on her face, also. She was conscious all the time she was falling, she said, but was unconscious when picked up. Mr. Fishel was thrown out of the machine after his companion, but suffered only slight cuts.

Miss Virden is still in great pain, even the slightest movement causing her intense suffering, but she bears up wonderfully, her mother says, and laughs and jokes at times.

Mr. Virden, who has been ill for some weeks, is now mending and hopes to be soon entirely recovered.

WAVING GRAIN

FINE FIELD OF WHEAT ON SIXTH STREET ATTRACTS PASSERSBY

A sight to gladden the heart of an old-time farmer of the Middle West and cause a slight feeling of homesickness if such a thing is possible in this land of beauty and sunshine, is a small patch of wheat, less than two acres in extent, at the corner of Sixth street and Grand View avenue. It is of very rank growth and of that rich dark green so dear to the heart of the wheat farmer. The average height of the stalks is over five feet. It is the smooth variety, but a few bearded heads are mixed in. It is pretty well headed out by this time and will be ready to cut in a few days. Other fields of grain in the rural sections of Glendale, wheat, barley and oats, are being cut already and ricked for hay. All small fields of grain and some very large ones in Southern California are cut with a mower, for hay, instead of being reaped, bound in sheaves, shocked and threshed, as is the invariable custom in the great wheat states such as Kansas, Minnesota, Illinois and Indiana.

ADVERTISING AS THE BUYER'S PROTECTION

The average car owner takes it for granted that national advertising on the part of a large manufacturer, is designed primarily to sell his goods. In part he is correct in this assumption, but there is another phase of national advertising which probably does not occur to the mind of the American motorist. In buying a nationally advertised product, the customer is protected by this advertising, because the public is familiar with the name under which the product is marketed. If the product does not stand up in the service of the customer, this familiarity is far from being an invitation to buy the goods, but is a warning not to buy them.

The national advertiser spends thousands of dollars yearly in reminding the public that his goods are for sale. He realizes only too well that his produce must live up to his advertising in every respect, or it will be an expensive boomerang to him. He cannot afford to cut the quality of his goods. His trade name is too valuable to jeopardize in this way. He realizes that advertising is a two-edged sword which when used properly and backed up by quality products will carve out for him a large volume of business, but if the quality of the product is not maintained the other edge of the sword will but serve to cut the ground from under him. Goods which are nationally advertised in the newspapers throughout the country are for this reason, usually a safe purchase. The advertising which attracts the buyer also protects him.

APPEAL FOR SERBIA

Sunday, April 25th is the Yugoslav National Holiday, and the California Committee for Relief in Serbia has arranged to celebrate the day with a state-wide "Animal Badge Day," when little animal badges will be sold everywhere at 10c each. The proceeds will be spent in this country for feed, implements and animals, which will be sent overseas to equip one agricultural college in Serbia.

Twelve thousand dollars will make one college independent and house 100 orphan boys. Serbia is 85 per cent agricultural, and during the war all animals and implements, down to the most trivial, were carried away or destroyed.

The California office in San Francisco will close in June, and hopes to leave this as a fitting monument of work done in Serbia.

The local committee will offer the badges for sale on Saturday and will be grateful for a cordial response on the part of our citizens. Ladies having the work in charge are: Mrs. Hartley Shaw, Mrs. C. E. Norton, Mrs. John Robt. White, Jr., Mrs. W. W. Worley.

MRS. H. E. BARTLETT,
Chairman for Glendale.

PAPERS FOR RED CROSS

All persons having papers and magazines for the Red Cross are requested to send them to the nearest school house, where arrangements have been made to have them taken care of.

Half the proceeds from the sale of these papers and magazines will go to the Welfare Council as it did when the Shop was running.

The Red Cross Chapter feels greatly indebted to John A. Logan for the free use of his building for many months. But now that he is so fortunate as to rent it, this seems the best arrangement to be made.

The Doran street and Broadway schools will not receive papers.

A prize will be given to the school whose collection is largest in proportion to its membership.

MRS. H. E. BARTLETT,
Chairman Red Cross Chapter.

HISTORIC PLACES

city and the state. His report of some portions of their conversations runs something like this:

"We do not have to advertise Minneapolis like you do Los Angeles."

"That is interesting," I said. "I suppose you get plenty of business without it."

"We do," he replied. "We have one bank that has assets of $90,000,000. Have you anything like that?"

I shook my head and he went on: "You won't find any city outside of New York that will equal it. Duluth does the most shipping in tonnage of any city in the country. Did you know that?"

The fine buildings in the two cities, which together have a population of about 700,000, and the business they are doing were quite a revelation, Mr. Muhleman said.

After reaching Chicago the trial of his case occupied him quite closely, but on Sunday he had an opportunity to motor with a friend and his wife over the boulevard system which connects the chain of parks that thus encircle the city. They debated going north towards Evanston and Wilmette, but the driver turned the scale in favor of Jackson and South Parks and the party thus escaped the tornado that swept through the northwest portion of the city and spent itself in the lake. They viewed the ruins about an hour after it had passed and were filled with wonder to see what destruction could be wrought in so short a time. Mr. Muhleman's verdict on the city as a whole is: "It is one of the greatest cities in the country and I was especially impressed with its fine system of boulevards connecting all its parks. Then I met a lot of old friends and a few relatives who made it pleasant for me."

Business then took him to Indianapolis and from there he went down into Kentucky to Newport, Fort Thomas and Lexington to visit relatives and friends and while in Lexington went to see the old home of Henry Clay who, in Mr. Muhleman's opinion, was an ideal man in many respects and one of the greatest statesmen this country has ever had. It was interesting to the visitor to see what Clay's environment had been and how it had influenced him. He married a Kentucky belle from one of the oldest and wealthiest families and being always able to make money with his law practice was never at a loss for means, but always able to spend generously, even lavishly. He was reputed to have been one of the most loved men in public life of his day and generation and Mr. Muhleman is trying to figure out how much was due to personality and how much to favoring circumstances. The estate consisted of about 600 acres and on it were a lot of colored people, for though he abhorred slavery, he lived as did other Kentucky gentlemen in those days. Mr. Muhleman drove around the old stables where Clay's famous race horses were kept, then out onto the Paris Pike, past the home of the famous racer, "Dan Patch," and past the cemetery in the shape of a horseshoe where celebrated horses were buried, then on to the Winchester Pike and past the home of Hagan, the greatest race horse man in the country. It is a beautiful home, he says, and surrounded by thousands of acres of blue grass pasture. Returning to Lexington, Mr. Muhleman there saw the Duncan home, a typical old Southern mansion where it is said Lafayette was entertained. Best of all, it has been allowed to remain much as it was then in 1825. He also saw the home of John Morgan of the Morgan Raiders. "When we got through our little tour of the Blue Grass region, I felt I had seen one of the most delightful places it would ever be my good fortune to visit," Mr. Muhleman declared in concluding his description.

Another place rich in associations which he saw was Mount Healthy, back of Cincinnati and about fifteen miles distant. It was the girlhood home of Alice and Phoebe Carey, the beloved sister poets. It is still called Clover-Nook and is maintained just as it was when they were little girls. Mr. Muhleman saw the old oven where their bread and cakes were baked, and their hiding place for their verse—their stepfather did not approve of their poetry. Clover-Nook has been bought by Mr. Proctor, of Proctor & Gamble, and been converted into a private institution for the blind where they are taught to weave carpeting and do other industrial work. Mr. Muhleman bought and brought home a sample rug made there, which will, no doubt, be an object of great interest to his friends and a pleasant souvenir of his journey.

"I found business everywhere about as it is here," he reports. "People cannot get help, everybody is busy and behind with orders and the crying need is for somebody to do housework. I went back to Minneapolis and arranged for the exact date of trial of the case I have there which will call me back in May, and then I came home. I went on the Salt Lake and came back by Santa Fe and met a very pleasant lot of people both going and coming."

still more efficient saver is the fireless cooker."

At the present time Miss Hanson believes beef is as cheap a meat as can be found in the market and it affords considerable variety in the cheaper cuts which, as a rule, afford more nourishment than the higher priced ones. The neck cuts, for instance, can be made into appetizing stews and can be used for croquettes and cottage pie to excellent advantage. They can also be used in combination with spaghetti and produce a dish affording more all-around nourishment than the meat alone.

Round steak when compared with its former price no longer seems cheap, but when one considers that there is no loss, by reason of bone, it is economical. As one of the ways by which it can be made tender and tempting Miss Hanson mentioned "Swiss Steak." When this is attempted the cut should be about an inch thick. Into each pound of meat a half cup of flour should be pounded with a wooden potato masher or better yet a steak pounder such as can be obtained at the markets. The steak should then be browned over a rather quick blaze in drippings, preferably from the fat of the meat. It should then be covered with boiling water and be allowed to simmer until tender. Season well and thicken the gravy in the pan and pour over the meat. For those who like onions it can be made even more appetizing by browning onions with the meat.

Shoulder is cheaper than rib meat and makes a good pot roast, and here again, Miss Hanson mentioned the simmer burner and the fireless cooker as an economy adjunct.

In the matter of catering for one or two, Miss Hanson declares economy lies in so limiting one's purchases that there will be few, if any, left-overs; for therein is a chance for waste except in large families where made-over dishes seem to be more easily disposed of. The French are reputed to be the most economical people in the world in table expenses. They buy a handful of this or a handful of that, a few vegetables to help out and season a stew, and as far as possible avoid any stale food or deteriorating stocks.

To the Easterner accustomed to a well-stocked cellar, California's habit of "living out of a paper bag" as they usually express it, seems a horrible extravagance, but after they have lived in California a while and sampled fresh and stale vegetables, they, too, usually fall into the ways of the country and cease to buy in quantity, except of products which may be canned or otherwise preserved.

L. A. NO-PARKING LAW TO BE AMENDED

Los Angeles' no-parking law has been tried out for 10 days and has aroused a storm of protest particularly from business men located in the central portion of the no-parking district, many of them claiming that ruin stares them in the face unless the ordinance is so amended as to allow parking at certain hours during the day.

The city council has been importuned to amend the law to this effect and it is thought the request will be granted. Glendale motorists in common with those of other Southland cities near the metropolis have been greatly bothered by the restrictions and many of them have foregone visits to the big business houses in the city. In this respect the law has really worked to the advantage of stores in outlying cities.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED that the Board hereby calls an election to be held in Glendale Union High School District on May 10, 1920, at the same voting places, at the same time and by the same officers of election as the above mentioned bond election, and hereby submits to the qualified electors of said District at said election the following question: "Do you favor the retention of the present location of the Glendale Union High School as the permanent site of the high school with such enlargements of the grounds as may be necessary for that purpose?" Said question shall be printed on the ballots used at said election hereby called and after it shall be the words "yes" and "no" with voting squares in which electors shall indicate their choice by marking a cross; upon said ballots shall also be printed the following part of this Resolution:

BE IT RESOLVED that this Board hereby agrees and pledges itself in the event that said bonds in the sum of $250,000.00 are voted, that it will be governed in the matter of the high school site by the majority of the votes cast upon the question of retention of the present site—that is, if the majority of the votes cast are in favor of retention of the present site, this Board will proceed to acquire the block of land situated immediately east of the present site for enlargement of the grounds and will construct suitable buildings for the use of the high school, including a class room building, a heating plant and a girls' gymnasium or as many thereof as can be constructed out of said bond issue and such temporary accommodations as may seem necessary pending the completion of permanent buildings; and if the majority of votes cast are against retention of the present site this Board will proceed to acquire a new site for the high school at some suitable location to be chosen by the electors of the District at a subsequent election, and will also construct on the present site such temporary buildings or additions or alterations of the present buildings as may be necessary to accommodate the school until new buildings can be built on the new site, estimated to be about five years, and any surplus of the bond issue remaining after these purposes are carried out will not be expended until the new site is to be improved.

Corks which have been used a long time and do not fit the neck of the bottle, can be renewed by putting them in boiling water and leaving it to cool.

EL RETIRO

"The readers of the Evening News should be interested in constructive work, as carried on by the county, and I wonder how many have ever seen or heard of the wonderful little institution called El Retiro and located near San Fernando," said Supervisor Jonathan S. Dodge, in an interview with the editor of this paper. "In the San Fernando Valley olive groves," said he, "is a new kind of school for girls. The county owns 10 acres, improved with a number of houses and modern bungalows; there are no fences to keep people out and none are needed to keep the girls in. The aim of the new school is to re-educate young girls who are wards of the Juvenile Court. For many years society has responded to the need of the young boy for this sort of opportunity, endowing George Junior Republics, Industrial Farms, Homes, Camps and Schools in abundance which tided him over the period of his unsheltered youth, and in some instances at least kept him from the Reform School. For wayward girls who are, for all good purposes, also 'homeless,' society has opened no door, save that of the institution for correction."

"El Retiro is a modern experiment in self-government and self-expression for the so-called 'delinquent' girl. Here she carries on the business of home-making entirely on her own initiative. The Student Council, which is the governing body, recommends those who should be paid and the honors usually rotate. Eighteen of the girls have established bank accounts."

"The unique thing about El Retiro is that everyone there wishes to be there—no one is sent; she must express a desire to go. After a month she is voted into the Student Body and a ceremony of initiation is held, during which the new girl is instructed by the older members as to her duties and responsibilities. She is then given the school pin and takes an oath of allegiance. The girls stay at El Retiro until they are self-reliant and trained to self-support. There is no fixed time. There are now 28 girls, ranging in age from 13 to 18."

"The Board of Education furnishes a teacher, and inasmuch as the girls perform their own work, the cost of maintaining the institution is very moderate indeed."

NOT OF MUCH CONSEQUENCE

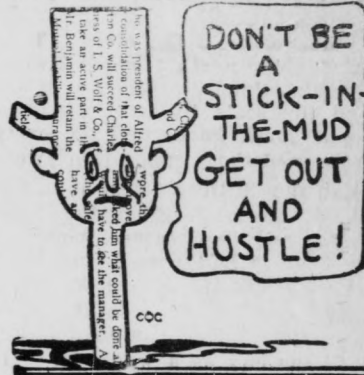

A writer in the American Law Review, speaking about the projected trial of the Kaiser, says: If it is desired to punish this insignificant figurehead, let's go ahead and have a trial, but there is no occasion for so very much importance to be attached to it. German opinion need not be taken into account at all. Force is still its god, and a forked tongue its doubtful defender.

Triangular postage stamps have been issued by the new People's Republic of the Ukraine in Europe, symbolical of the ascendancy of Christianity over Mohammedanism.

BREAK IN PRICE OF CORN

DROP OF 8 CENTS RECORDED ON CHICAGO BOARD OF TRADE CAUSED BY BAD FINANCIAL NEWS

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)
CHICAGO, April 21.—Startling price drops were recorded on the Chicago Board of Trade today when May corn dropped 8c from an opening price of $1.72½. Slightly smaller drops followed in July and September corn. Most of the activity occurred within a half hour. Bad financial news, especially foreign, was the cause assigned by Chicago traders.

"OUTLAW" STRIKERS STILL OUT

FOUR THOUSAND MEN BOLT FROM MEETING CALLED BY THREE LEADERS

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)
CHICAGO, April 21.—Striking railway switchmen refused to vote an end to their "outlaw" strike today. Called to a mass meeting by three leaders, four thousand men left the hall five minutes after the meeting has been called to order. The failure of John Grunau, chief of the Chicago Yardmen's Association, to appear, caused the bolt. About six hundred men remained in the hall. The bolters remained in the street and jeered those who desired to return to work. R. F. Murphy and Shannon Jones, who called the meeting anticipated opposition but were not prepared for the wholesale walk-out at the mass meeting. John Grunau, who had been jailed, was expected to be released long enough to advise his followers to return to their jobs. Attorney Clyne announced that, regardless of the switchmen's action, prosecution of strike leaders involved in the charges of violating the Lever Act, would proceed.

ONE VIEW OF THE BONUS

"The American Legion is not going to take anything out of the country; it is going to put something into the country."

These words, or words of similar import, were used at the St. Louis convention of the Legion in opposition to a so-called Bonus plan for ex-service men. They instantly were absorbed by the delegates to that convention as a convincing argument against any recommendation on the part of the Legion for a governmental donation in addition to the sixty-dollar—or "suit-of-clothes"—bonus, and the suggestion that it might be a pleasant and profitable thing for the United States to help its service men financially died a boring.

Now it is generally surmised that the bonus notion was defeated at the St. Louis convention because the leaders of the Legion felt that the time was not then ripe for any request for money, and the Let-us-not-take-anything-out-of-the-country argument is said to have been made merely to defeat a bonus recommendation temporarily. But regardless of the real purpose of that argument, the fact is it has persisted in the minds of many gentlemen of the Legion whose views are deserving of more than merely passing consideration, and it is now a difficult task to convince them that a bonus for ex-service men is a necessity.

And yet—the best argument ever advanced in behalf of a bonus plan is this very argument that has been used so strongly against it.

In the first place, the bonus should never have been called a bonus. A bonus signifies a reward, an extra payment. But the ex-service men of this nation are not seeking rewards or extra payments for the work they performed in the war, the reason being that they know well they were not in the war to make money. The bonus plan should have been called a Re-adjustment Plan, or a Repayment Plan, or something of that nature. What ex-service men want is not compensation for work done, but a repayment of the money they expended to get back into civil life. The fact that an alarming number of ex-service men are mortgaged up to the hilt in their efforts to secure standing room in the business world is too well known to need elaboration.

Now then, with the bonus considered in this light, let us not take anything out of the country; let us put something into the country. Let us put into the United States of America some four million contented Americans; let us, through the medium of a bonus put ex-service men on their financial feet; let us invest in satisfied citizenship. What will the probable returns of that investment be—Bolshevism or one hundred per cent Americanism? And which of these does the American Legion desire—nay, demand?

From this viewpoint the bonus is not such a terribly expensive business after all. And because it chances to be the viewpoint of about four-fifths of the members of the American Legion it would seem to be grounded in no little strength. Is that viewpoint to be disregarded entirely by the gentlemen of the Congress of the United States or will some intrepid member thereof rise to a point of patriotism?—Thos. Lloyd Lemon in California Legion Monthly.

ANSWER YOUR DOOR-BELL!

Emerson said that if a man did something better than his neighbor, no matter what it was, the world would make a beaten path to his door.

But times have changed. Now-a-days the men who make the "better" things are "making paths" to your door.

Every time a newspaper comes a host of people are ringing your door-bell. Merchants and manufacturers are waiting on the doorstep to spread their goods at your feet for you to look at.

Don't let the opportunity that advertisements offer you slip by. No matter what you want, clothing, groceries, a fountain pen or a farm, you will find the "better" ones in the advertising columns.

The advertisements tell you where you can get what you want, when you want it.

Buying with a definite knowledge is so much better than shopping at random. Study the advertisements.

CARDINAL MERCIER

Tall, ascetically thin, pale and with eyes that have a kindly look, a mouth fine and expressive, Cardinal Mercier surprises one by his simplicity and his modesty. But if one has had the honor of exchanging a word with him, we at once discover the man, powerful and forceful. Here is a man who does honor to mankind, an august pontiff, and a royal prince of the Church.—Henry Welschinger in Je Sais Tout, Paris.

For 800 years the Turk has proved himself, in the words of Gladstone, "the one great anti-human specimen of humanity;" as Cardinal Newman described him, "the anti-Christ among the races of men."
